Two birds to identify.

The birds of Lewis and Clark.

THE ANSWER IS ON THE NEXT PAGE

Upper bird is a pine siskin, and the lower is a purple finch.

Compare the siskin's fine, neat streaking and blank face to the coarse markings on the brown purple finch's underparts and the bold markings on its head. At a feeder, slender, diminutive siskins are dwarfed by the chunky, heavy-billed purple finches.
